Guide at NDSU

The Bison Bakery: We raise the best!

Why put up with thick cardboard for breakfast? A steaming fresh cinnamon roll is as close as NDSU's Memorial Union Bakery! Or maybe a crusty, chewy roll filled with camembert cheese fills your hankering for lunch like you remember on a Paris park bench. The NDSU bakers learned their yeasty trade from some of Europe's finest bakers, and now they're coming to campus with bread and rolls baked fresh all day long. In fact, they'll be warm from the oven to your hands. Wasn't bread on campus always supposed to taste this good?

Will Rogers used to joke that "college-bred is a four-year loaf," but at NDSU students can eat his words with a fresh loaf every day for the next four years!

Bread crumbs

In Turkey bread is so sacred that, before throwing away an old piece, Turks commonly touch it to their forehead and say a prayer.

Bread has been part of human life for at least 8,000 years. Revolutions have exploded after bread shortages, taking down whole governments—all for the want of flour, water and yeast.
